

HITTING /FIELDING LESSONS

Hello, my name is Riley Riendeau, and I have been playing high-level of competitive softball for several years. I have been lucky enough to continue my softball career and have been offered a scholarship to play Division 1, softball.

Every softball player starts somewhere, in the backyard, park or joining Little League. These early moments, however small, are especially critical. This is when young players learn good habits, good form and a good-stance — not to mention a healthy love of the game.

I have been fortunate enough to learned from some of the best coaches and I would like to teach you.

I am currently accepting several new students for one-on-one lessons. If you are interested in quality softball hitting lessons, please email me for details; r.riendeau18@gmail.com
